University of Southern Queensland Animal Ethics Committee (UniSQ AEC)

Responsible officer	Manager, Research Integrity & Ethics	Approval Date	1 July 2020
Committee Services Officer	Ethics Coordinator	Approval Authority	Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research & Innovation)

1. Role

The University is a registered user of animals for scientific purposes. It is therefore obliged to comply with the requirements of the Animal Care and Protection Act 2001 (Qld) (the “Act”); the Australian Code for the Care and Use of Animals for Scientific Purposes, 8th Edition, 2013 (the “Code”). The University also complies with the legislation and other requirements governing the use of animals in other states and territories where a license to use animals is held.

In accordance with the requirements of the Act and the Code, the University has established the University of Southern Queensland Animal Ethics Committee (UniSQ AEC), which is tasked with ensuring that all activities relating to the care and use of animals are conducted in compliance with the Code.

2. Function

The UniSQ AEC, in accordance with the Code, must:

1. review applications for projects and approve only those projects that are ethically acceptable and conform to the requirements of the Code;
2. review applications for activities associated with the care and management of animals in facilities, including procedures applicable to breeding programs integral to the maintenance of an animal line, and approve only those activities that are ethically acceptable and conform to the requirements of the Code;
3. not approve projects or activities involving the use of animals for testing of finished cosmetic products;
4. not approve projects or activities involving the use of a chemical ingredient unless the proposed use of animals is justified by a purpose other than use in a cosmetic;
5. conduct follow-up review of approved projects and activities, and allow the continuation of approval for only those projects and activities that are ethically acceptable and conform to the requirements of the Code;
6. monitor the care and use of animals, including housing conditions, practices and procedures involved in the care of animals in facilities;
7. take appropriate actions regarding unexpected adverse events;
8. take appropriate actions regarding non-compliance;
9. in consultation with the University, develop and approve guidelines for the care and use of animals on behalf of the institution;
10. provide advice and recommendations to the institution as required;

11. report to the University and other regulatory bodies as required;

3. Authority

The Vice-Chancellor, as the authorised officer of the University of Southern Queensland, delegates to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research and Innovation) the responsibility to meet institutional responsibilities outlined with the Australian Code for the care and use of animals for scientific purposes, 8th edition, 2013.

This includes, but not limited to:

1. ensuring the UniSQ AEC membership will allow the committee to meet its responsibilities;
2. ensuring the UniSQ AEC has terms of reference that are publicly available;
3. providing the UniSQ AEC with the resources required to carry out its responsibilities and to maintain the UniSQ AEC; and
4. establishing procedures for the effective governance and operation of the UniSQ AEC that enable the UniSQ AEC to comply with the Code and relevant University of Southern Queensland policies and procedures and promote competent and timely ethical review of animal care and use.

The Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research and Innovation) will meet with UniSQ AEC Chair on an annual basis to discuss matters such as the annual report from the UniSQ AEC to the University of Southern Queensland and any other issue that may impact on the compliance with the Code.

4. Membership

The minimum members of the University of Southern Queensland Animal Ethics Committee (UniSQ AEC) is defined by the Code and must consist of the following categories of membership:

- Chairperson – can be an external appointee or a person who holds a senior position in the institution. The Chairperson may be appointed in addition to Category A to D Members. Where possible, the Chairperson should be independent of the care and use of animals for scientific purposes.
- Category A – a person with qualifications in veterinary science that are recognised for registration as a veterinary surgeon in Australia and with experience relevant to the institution's activities or the ability to acquire relevant knowledge.
- Category B – a suitably qualified person with substantial and recent experience in the use of animals for scientific purposes relevant to the institution and the business of the AEC. This must include possession of a higher degree in research or equivalent experience. If the business of the AEC relates to the use of animals for teaching only, a teacher with substantial and recent experience may be appointed.
- Category C – a person with demonstrable commitment to, and established experience in, furthering the welfare of animals, who is not employed by or otherwise associated with the institution, and who is not currently involved in the care and use of animals for scientific purposes. Veterinarians with specific animal welfare interest and experience may meet the requirements of this category. While not representing an animal welfare organisation, the person should, where possible, be selected on the basis of active membership of, and endorsement by, such an organisation.
- Category D – a person not employed by or otherwise associated with the institution and who has never been involved in the use of animals in scientific or teaching activities, either in their employment or beyond their undergraduate education. Category D members should be viewed by the wider community as bringing a completely independent view to the AEC, and must not fit the requirements of any other category.

Full definitions and criteria for these categories is detailed within the Code. Additional members with specific expertise may be appointed to assist the UniSQ AEC to function effectively.

Initial appointment to the UniSQ AEC will be a period of up to three (3) years, with an initial three (3) month probationary period.

As the University of Southern Queensland does not currently have an animal facility, the UniSQ AEC does not appoint a person who is responsible for the routine care of animals within the institution (2.2.5).

4.1. Responsibilities of Committee Members

Each member is responsible for deciding whether, in their judgement, an application or other matter under consideration by the UniSQ AEC is ethically acceptable and meets the requirements of the Code.

To fulfil this responsibility, members should:

- be familiar with the Code and other policies, procedures and guidelines relevant to the business of the UniSQ AEC
- provide opinions with the ethical acceptability of application and other matters under consideration by the UniSQ AEC

During their appointment to the UniSQ AEC, and before any deliberations of the UniSQ AEC, members must declare any interest that could influence the objectivity of their decision making.

Members must maintain confidentiality regarding the content of applications and the deliberations of the UniSQ AEC, in accordance with the University requirements.

4.2. UniSQ Animal Ethics Committee Executive

The UniSQ AEC has established a UniSQ Animal Ethics Committee Executive (UniSQ AEC Executive).

The UniSQ AEC Executive includes the following member categories:

- Chairperson or UniSQ AEC endorsed nominee;
- Category A; and
- at least one member from Category C or D.

The UniSQ AEC Executive may approve exemptions and minor amendments to approved projects or activities for ratification at the next UniSQ AEC meeting. The UniSQ AEC Executive is not permitted to approve new applications, new procedures or major amendments.

5. Meetings, Reporting and Minutes

Frequency of Meetings:	The UniSQ Animal Ethics Committee meets at specific dates and times as outlined in the University Meeting Schedule.
Reports To:	Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research and Innovation).
Minutes:	UniSQ AEC meetings are recorded through minutes and Post Meeting Action (PMA) sheets.

A UniSQ AEC meeting shall be quorate with at least one member from each Category A, B, C and D, and where the Category C and D members represent at least one-third of members present throughout the meeting (2.2.5).

UniSQ AEC meetings are held face-to-face; however, in circumstances where a face-to-face meeting is not possible for all or some members, a meeting will be held in person and/or via Zoom (2.2.26 [ii]).

6. Reporting

An annual report will be submitted to the Council through the Research Committee and Academic Board. The annual report will contain information as described in the Code.

The UniSQ AEC reports to external regulatory bodies as required.

7. Secretary

The UniSQ AEC is serviced by the Ethics team in the Office of Research.

8. Review of Terms of Reference

The Terms of Reference will be reviewed annually by the UniSQ AEC
